

Dear Reader:

Good Housekeeping cares about the American consumer and their homes and most importantly their safety. We are always looking for products and solutions that deliver real and valuable benefits.

That is why we are proud to have Gutter Covers International, a leading manufacturer of gutter protection products for over a decade, as part of the great family of products with the Good Housekeeping Seal. Gutter Covers International is dedicated to providing homeowners with a variety of quality gutter protection choices.

Gutter Covers International's products keep the homeowner off the ladder and roof while keeping the gutters free of leaves and debris. And with a variety of products, including The Leaf Terminator™, The Solution™ and The Gratest Gutter Cover, they have a gutter protection system that is right for every home and budget.

Regardless of which system you select for your home, you can rest assured that these products have been reviewed by the Good Housekeeping Research Institute and are backed by the Good Housekeeping Seal.

Sincerely,

Patricia Haegele
